Foot Ball and the Faculty.

Dr. Bennett Writes on the National College Game.

Some twenty years ago I remember reading a story in one of the New York papers which ran like this. One day towards evening a young man was found lying in a field unconscious, crushed, bruised, bleeding and apparently dead. Several surgeons were summoned who held a consultation over the remains. One gave it as his opinion that the youth had been struck by the lightning express on the railroad across the river; that the train must have been behind time and running at unusual speed. A second believed that this theory would not account for the degree of pulverization observed, and suggested that it was more probable that he had been blown by a heavy seam blast with dynamite from a stone quarry on a neighboring mountain. A third believed the cause inadequate to the effect, and thought it more likely that he had been riding on the tail of a comet which had collided with the earth. In the midst of the discussion the hopeful opened his eyes and shouted "What's the score?" "Every thing is explained", said all the doctors in a breath. "There was a foot ball game on this field this afternoon and this is one of the relics." Turning to the heap of wounds before him, one said, "I guess you got the worst of it this time, my boy." "Before you come to that conclusion" was the reply, "you ought to see some of the boys on the other side."

The story represents fairly well the sentiments of the mass of people, including college faculties, at that time with reference to football. It was held to be well adapted to the training of wild Indians, preparatory to a scalping tour, but less fitted for training young men for peaceful pursuits or even civilized warfare. Nor was the sentiment entirely without foundation. The game was superlatively rough. One lady in Cambridge, after witnessing a game between Harvard and Yale, described it as a game in which they carry a ball and kick each other, a pretty accurate way of stating what she really saw.

Nor was this the worst charged to the account of football, especially as played in the larger colleges and universities of the country. The moral atmosphere surrounding an important match was far from the purest, and the evenings after notable victories were given over to festivities of a very questionable nature. No restraints were thrown around players or their attendants. Wine often flowed freely and a boy who accompanied a team was subjected to strong temptations. Work was often neglected and even became of secondary importance.

Under those conditions it is not strange that a parent with a son and heir in college looked with dark eyes upon foot-ball. Not stranger is it that college faculties looked equally black upon a sport at which a well-equipped hospital corps was a necessary adjunct and of which a disgraceful carousal was not an unfrequent sequence.

Since that time a profound change has taken place both in the character of the game and its concomitants. True, we still hear of broken noses and broken collar bones, but rules and methods of play have been so modified as to reduce to a minimum the danger of accident. True, there is still an element of roughness, but it should be remembered by those who object to this feature that this element could not be wholly removed

Lane Wants Prof. Vance.

Wooster Professor Called to Cincinnati.

Dr. Selby Frame Vance, Dean of the Bible School, has recently declined a flattering offer from Lane Theological Seminary, of Cincinnati. Prof. Vance received a letter some time ago, asking if he would accept a chair in that institution if elected. He immediately answered that he could not accept the proposition. Further than this, Prof. Vance makes no statement. The following appeared in a local paper last week:

"It will be a matter of sincere congratulation to the University that Dr. Selby Frame Vance, Professor of Biblical Instruction, has declined the tempting offer that came to him recently from Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, to accept a chair in that well known institution. Dr. Vance is an able scholar, a ripe thinker and an ideal instructor, whose loss to Wooster at this time would be irreparable.

Kauke Hall

The Scene of the Joint Reception.

The reception given at Kauke Hall, Saturday evening, Sept. 19, was the largest event of the kind ever seen in Wooster by students who are now in the University. Previously it had been the custom to hold these functions at Hoover Cottage, but the attendance which was expected rendered a change of place necessary. In the spacious banquet hall, the crowd was accommodated very comfortably. Nearly all the students in the University were present. Prof. and Mrs. Wilson, Prof. Vance, Prof. Compton, Prof. and Mrs. Martin, Prof. Chaddock and Miss Gingrich were also guests of the two Associations.

without robbing the game of all that renders it attractive to young men. Young men love the excitement of opposing muscle to muscle in friendly but violent encounter, and if you take away wholly the rough features, which often look so objectionable to onlookers, budding manhood would abandon the game. In fact, it is doubtful whether it will be possible to go much further in that direction without, from the players standpoint, spoiling the game.

Moreover, the moral atmosphere surrounding foot-ball games is vastly more wholesome than it once was. More and more athletics among young men, both in and out of college, have come into the hands of the better classes. Christian associations control many branches of college sports and the tendency is to frown upon dissipation of every kind in connection with intercollegiate games.

Not only has the game improved and its objectionable accompaniments been largely eliminated, but sentiment with reference to the game has changed likewise. In the old days sentiment was strongly adverse to the game in any form and it has had to battle against vehement opposition. Still it has survived. In truth we may fairly say that the fact that foot ball has survived all the opposition it has encountered in the last quarter of a century is strong evidence that there is something about it fit to survive. College faculties have legislated against it, parents have forbidden it, doctors have condemned it, ministers have preached against it, orators have railed at it, and yet it survives. It survives now with the consent of those classes who formerly opposed it. The time was when college faculties either forbade the play or merely tolerated it as a necessary evil. At the present time, though a minority in the faculties of most institutions still exists and a majority in some who still oppose the autumn sport, the majority in most are in favor of not only permitting the play but encouraging it under reasonable restrictions. Most college faculties contain men who have themselves played on the gridiron and remember the exhilarating sport well enough to be slow to forbid it to the rising generation. They can speak with authority and can silence their elders who never made a touch down.

Why has foot ball survived? It has survived because young men find in it something which they want and which many demand.

1. It survives because it is a delightful recreation and furnishes more real enjoyment than most other things for which people pay money. This fact is scarcely appreciated by the uninitiated who see no fun in being downed in a scrimmage.

2. It survives because players find it healthful. It sends red blood bounding through arteries where it flowed sluggish and blue before. It quickens secretions which were stagnant and dull before. It builds nerve and muscle where was only flabby skin before.

3. It survives because the crowd like to see the game. A great waste of time, some say. True, in part. People will spend some of their time in ways not ideally profitable; but the philanthropist who leaves out of account the desire of mankind to be amused and the positive benefit of being amused, makes a culpable omission which will lead him into grave mistakes. It does us good to get out and get our blood stirred with a thrill of excitement. It is positively hygienic to witness a sensational run, or a brilliant tackle, or a winning goal.

4. It survives because it has leaked out that foot ball playing, especially in important games, is splendid discipline. Mind is trained as well as body. To see all there is in a situation and see it at a glance, to judge instantly and correctly what should be done and how in a critical situation to maintain self-control under exasperating conditions, to keep one's head under intense excitement, these are precious powers on sterner fields than diamond or gridiron, and yet I believe that no better school could be founded for the development of such powers than athletic contests. Roosevelt's Rough Riders contained several valuable officers who testified to the great benefit of their foot ball experience in fitting them for their army life. Mental activity must be commensurate with physical or efforts will be wasted. Football practice is mental development of a high order.

I will close with a few pieces of advice to students who play foot ball or other athletic games.

1. Never let your play become dominant. Athletic sports have their place. Keep them in it. Never let your love of them master you. Be master yourself.

2. Keep the rules with reference to athletics and see that others do the same. The rules are for your protection not hindrance. They are all reasonable.

3. Maintain your standing. All that is necessary to do this is to get your lessons. You can do it.

4. Be sportsmanlike. Despise meanness even in a small degree.

5. Abandon the idea, if you have it, that the object of the play is to win. President Eliot of Harvard after an extended discussion of the whole series of college athletics pronounced them merely pleasant and profitable amusements. If we have a winning team, we shall rejoice; but if we have a losing team we shall also rejoice.

6. This last point let me especially emphasize. Treat visiting teams as gentlemen should treat gentlemen. The guying of players by the onlookers is low and cowardly. Never address to a player on the field a word which you would not use to him in a parlor. It is unsportsmanlike, unfair, ungentlemanly, and unworthy of the good name of Wooster.

J. B. Crouch

Honored by the Sophomore Class.

At the annual election of officers for the class of 1906, the following officers were chosen: President, J. B. Crouch; Vice President, C. H. Rice, Treasurer, H. H. Hayman; Secretary, Julia Merrick; Athletic Representative, D. H. Cramer. The election passed off very smoothly, there being only one candidate for president and the other officers being elected by large pluralities.

Attendance

Rules Changed by the Faculty.

The faculty presented a new series of rules regarding attendance at classes and chapel to the student body on Thursday morning. Hereafter the mark system will be used at Wooster and the policy of the University authorities, regarding absence from class, will be narrowed decidedly. The new rules are as follows:

1. Students who desire to absent themselves temporarily from the University during the term are required to secure from the Dean previous written leave of absence.

2. Those who retire from the University must report beforehand to the Dean, or they will be subject to discipline and to refusal of honorable dismissal.

3. All students are required to attend the daily chapel exercises and also the Sabbath morning preaching service in the University Chapel. In case of family or personal membership in another denomination, a permit, renewable each year, will be issued by the Dean, to attend the Sabbath morning service elsewhere.

4. Each student is allowed absences from recitation each term as follows: two in any three-hour or four-hour course; one in any one-hour or two-hour course.

5. All absences in excess of the number allowed in any course shall be counted failures in reckoning the student's standing, unless the omitted exercises be made up at a time and place appointed by the instructor whose exercises were omitted; and permission to make up omitted work will be granted only when the absences are due to illness or other serious providential hindrance or to authorized absence from the city. Application for such permission must be made to the Dean within one week after the student resumes his college duties, or it will not be considered.

6. Irregularities in attendance,—except absences allowed under Rule 4, or due to illness reported by the student to the Dean, or included in authorized absence from the city,—will be marked as follows: Absence from examination, five marks; absence from recitation or lecture, two marks; absence from Sabbath morning preaching service two marks; absence from Chapel exercise, one mark; absence from any other required exercises, one mark; tardiness or egress from recitation, one mark.

When the marks of a student amount to ten, he will be informed of the fact and a written notice will be sent to his father or guardian, together with a statement of his absences and a copy of the rules of attendance. When the marks amount to fifteen, a second notice will be sent and the student will be suspended from the privileges of the University for a period determined by the Faculty.

Martin Remp

Elected President of the Senior Class.

At a meeting of the Senior Class held last Monday morning, Martin Remp was elected president for the year. Mr. Fraser was the only other candidate named for the office, and the vote was an exceedingly close one.

Mr. Remp joined the class of 1904 in their junior year and since that time they have expressed their appreciation of his abilities by electing him to a number of offices.

At the meeting it was decided that the class should appear in cap and gown on Fridays throughout the year. Preliminary arrangements were made looking to the presentation of a class day performance next June. A motion was introduced by Mr. Davis, providing for the appointment of a committee, of upperclassmen which should take steps for the substitution of an athletic meet between the Freshmen and Sophomores, for the rushes which have been condemned by the faculty. A number of schools in Pennsylvania have tried this method of testing the relative strength of the two classes and every where that the system has been tried, it has met with general approval.

Miss Aten was elected secretary of the class; Hibbard, treasurer; and Bailey, athletic representative. Before adjourning, the following resolutions were passed: Be it resolved, that the Senior class go on record as unanimously requesting that Simon Miller continue his work on the foot ball field during the present season.

We offer a prize of $10 to the student who gives us the best reason why men should wear the "Boston Garter." Answers will be received up to January 1, 1904. Address the manufacturers, George Frost Co., Boston, Mass.

Preps and Freshmen

Refuse to Lift Their Hats.

One night, early last week copies of the following notice were distributed among the Freshmen and Preparatory students of the University.

Wooster, O., Sept. 19, 1902.

All Freshmen and Preparatory students, when passing an upper class man on the streets, or on the college campus are hereby commanded to give the military salute; and to remove the hat, cap or other head gear, when passing a Senior wearing cap and gown.

This order is imperative and you will have cause to regret any failure to comply with it.

A word to the wise is sufficient.

Th following morning, solitary underclassmen, could be seen paying homage to the passing of a Senior or Junior, but a majority completely ignored the proclamation. officers of the upper classes disclaim any connection with the issuing of the circulars and it is probable that that they were the result of an attempt to make the Freshmen and Preps the victims of a huge practical joke. As the matter stands now, the under classmen do not doff their headgear, and the upper classmen make no attempt to persuade them to.

Freshmen

Elect Officers for the Year.

The election of officers of the Freshman class of the University took place in the Latin room, Thursday noon. The class was well represented, nearly all members being present. The result is as follows: President, Robert Watt; Vice President, Miss Hazel Emery; Secretary, Miss Miriam Hard; treasurer, C. E. Lamale; Athletic representative, John D. Overholt; class historian, Miss Mary Hickok.

When Johnson West withdrew his name from the list of candidates for the presidency, his supporters cast their vote in favor of President Watt, thus defeating the other candidate,

Any fool can aim high, but it takes strength, skill and a few other things to hit the mark.

The genius who will, out of his fertile imagination, originate a short snappy Wooster yell will earn the everlasting gratitude of all generations to come.

The day is coming when the name of Wooster will be held sacred for the wealth of legend and of story that surrounds it, as well as for its achievements in the past. We are playing a part in laying the foundations for the traditions that will one day constitute one of the chief charms of life in the "White City on the Hill." Let it be of the sort that future classes may be proud of.

Did it ever occur to you that about the most detestable being on the face of the earth, is the chronic knocker? Not content with looking on the dark side of every thing he must expend all his spare wind in proclaiming to such an audience as he can get together, the rottenness of things in general and the reforms which would be effected were his plans followed. Instead of ever lending a hand to help correct the fault, he wastes his strength in howling about it to others.

And did it ever occur to you that the man who will go out and watch the team practice every night in the week and then stay away from the game to tell some one what poor methods are being used, should be unanimously proclaimed Chief Kicker of the Amalgamated Order of Knockers?

Literary Societies.

This department of school work is now fairly under way. Among the men's societies, Websterian has started the year with the intention of doing some hard work; Athenaeum and Irving have presented special programs and are taking in new men. The latter two societies decided Friday evening to ask Prof. Kirkpatrick to stage a production under their auspices, the proceeds to go toward furnishing their halls. Should Prof. Kirkpatrick's answer be favorable, the petition for such a production will probably be presented to the Faculty Friday night.

Essay—Our Great Western University by Miss Digel.

Original Story—Reminiscences of a Wellesley Girl, Miss Fulton.

Debate—Resolved, That Co-Educational Schools are preferable to ladies' seminaries. Affirm. Misses Stone and Layport. Neg. Misses Aten and Taggart.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all new girls to join Willard.

WEBSTERIAN.

Websterian Literary Society met in regular session Friday and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows; President, Paul Swartz; V. Pres. Weaver; Secretary, Paul Ringland; Treas. Lowry; Voice reporter, Tyler.

High Class

Attractions Will Appear on the Lecture Course.

Prof. Bennett has announced the engagement of the following numbers for this year's lecture course:

Congressman C. E. Littlefield, "Education and Civilization," Oct. 20, 1903.

Jennie Osborne Co., Nov. 3, 1903.

Pittsburg Orchestra, Nov. 26, 1903.

Monteville Flowers, Dramatic Monologue, "The Merchant of Venice", Dec. 10, 1903.

David Starr Jordan, President of Leland Stanford, "The Blood of the Nation", Jan. 12, 1904.

William Normen Guthrie, "The Right to Laughter", Jan. 26, 1904.

Rev. Father J. F. Nugent, "Philosophy of Civilization," Feb. 4, 1904.

Prof. Geo. W. Andrews, Organ Recital at Chapel, February.

Mac Dowell, Piano Recital, February.

Hamilton Wright Mabie, "American Society and Literature", March.

It is probable that an extra number will be given in the form of a lecture by Rev. Goss, of Cincinnati. Notwithstanding the high grade of the course, the price will probably remain the same. Tickets will be on sale within the the next two weeks.

J. H. Rankin, a former student at Wooster and at present a representative of a building and loan association, visited the campus Friday as the guest of his brother C. C. Rankin.

A cash basis is the Book Exchange policy this year. For special accomodation, short time was granted at the term's opening. It is desired that all bills be settled now as early as possible.

At 2:45, Saturday afternoon, the first electric car reached the public square. A small crowd that had been watching the workmen as they administered the finishing touches to the Wooster terminal, made up the only reception committee which the car received. A week or two will probably find a regular schedule in operation.

Basket Ball.

Bright Outlook for the Coming Year.

Basketball practice began Saturday morning in the gymnasium. Seventeen men reported by ten o'clock.

Regular work will commence next week with general practices on Monday and Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings and will continue until the season opens. Every Saturday there will be practice games between the first and second, and the third and fourth teams.

After Company D returns from camp in Kentucky, there will be a weekly game between the first team and the Company every Tuesday evening.

All men who wish to play basketball must report for practice, or see the captain, before the end of the week.

The following men who played in last year's team will be in the game this winter: Capt. Weaver, McConnell, Cramer, Good, Meese, and Coupland.

Among the new fellows who reported Saturday morning were Emerson, Bayley, Stewart, Campbell, Moore, Garvin, Reynolds, and Craig.

Executive Committee

Of the Athletic Association Will be Completed Tonight.

During the past week, the various collegiate classes and the Preparatory Department have chosen their athletic representatives. The results of the elections are as follows:

Seniors—C. H. Bailey.

Juniors—J. S. Weaver.

Sophomores—D. H. Cramer.

Freshmen—J. D. Overholt.

Preparatory—Stewart.

The officers of the Association, a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who are elected by the Association as a whole and who are entitled to the same vote on all subjects as is given to the class representatives, will be chosen at a mass meeting of the students, in the chapel basement, at 7:30 tonight. J. O. Welday, who is the ranking officer of the Association will preside at this meeting.

Six To Nothing

Was Wooster's Record Against Massillon

In The First Game Seen on University Field This Season.

Saturday afternoon witnessed the initial foot ball match of the season when the University eleven ran up against the strong Massillon town team in a practice game. In no way was it possible to judge the comparative strength of the teams before the game, so speculation ran high, especially since the college team had made no public appearance as yet.

The two teams lined up as follows:

MASSILLON.		WOOSTER.
Costello,	} L. E.	Benedict
Howells,
Goehler,	} L. T.	Tate
McLain,
Anderson	L. G.	Miller
Burneyen	C.	Thompson
Hague	} R. G.	Hayman
Cellen
Rigler	R. T.	Harrold
Wittman	} R. E.	Smith
T. Nolan
Stewart	Q.	Whitcraft
Goodrich	} L. H.	Acton
Oberlin
Miller	F.	Abbey
J. Nolan	R. H.	{ Spencer
		{ Hoover

Massillon won the toss and chose the west goal. Abbey kicked off for Wooster to Goehler who received it on the 25 yard line and carried it back for ten yards, Wooster secured the ball on downs but lost it on a fumble. For several minutes, Massillon advanced the ball steadily for regular gains of from one to six yards until they were dangerously near Wooster's goal. When on the nine yard line, the Varsity line proved too solid for the visitors' bucks, and the ball changed hands.

The tables were at once reversed and the ball was taken back over the field at a much more rapid rate in the following order: Tate, 5 yards; Spencer, 5; Harrold, 5; Acton, 9; Abbey, 14; Whitcraft, 2; Acton, 2; Abbey, 8. After this series of bucks and short end runs, the ball was advanced a little farther and then given to Acton, who, with a magnificent interference, succeeded in clearing right and went down the field for a 45 yard run and the first touch down of the year.

Whitcraft kicked goal and the score stood 6-0 in Wooster's favor.

Abbey kicked off to J. Nolan who made a small advance, but the half was soon over and the ball still in Massillon's territory.

In the second half, the ball was carried back and forth, up and down the field until, when the whistle blew, the pig skin lay 45 yards from Massillon's goal.

SUMMARY OF GAME.

Touchdown, Acton; Goal, Whitcraft; Officials, Gasche and Powell; Time keepers: Wooster, Will Kinney; Massillon, Balzly.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

We won.

Whitcraft was in the game every time.

Howells is a student at the State University.

Oberlin, who played left half in the latter part of the game, was captain of the Sophomore team at Annapolis last year.

Acton's run was the sensational play of the day for Wooster. Stewart's punt was sensational for Massillon, the result of the play being a loss of just 15 yards.

In the middle of the last half, Spencer was knocked out with a sprained knee. It is expected however that he will be able to play against Oberlin a week from next Saturday. Hoover took his place at right half.

Captain Stewart, who played quarter back, was a student at Western Reserve last year. He Played on the W. R. U. base ball team against Wooster two years ago. He is at present city editor of the Massillon Independent.

Big Miller reported for practice for the first time this term, on Thursday evening. As he came on the field, the team greeted him with loud and long cheers which were immediately answered by "Boom-a-laca" from the men along the side lines. Wooster men appreciate Miller's return to his old position in the line.

Nice Out of the Game.

Walter Nice, the strongest candidate for the position of quarterback, had his nose broken at Wednesday's football practice as a result of a collision with Spencer. The injury will keep him out of the game for at least two weeks.

Freshman Elect Officers for the Year.

Mr. Pollock, by a considerable majority.

Miss Mary Hickok was originally a candidate for treasurer but later withdrew her name. She was immediately made class historian by a unanimous vote.

The two candidates, Miss Hard for secretary and Mr. Lamale for treasurer were elected to their respective offices by standing vote being the only aspirants to the offices. The others however were balloted for.

President Watt will call a meeting next week and will appoint standing committees.

Rounding Into Shape.

Some of the Candidates for the Varsity Eleven.

Work has been going on, on the gridiron, during the past two weeks with unusual interest and enthusiasm. Although the pre-season training had to be dispensed with this year, the fact has not quelled the ardor of the men who are working now as hard as any other squad in the state. Coach St. John has been very busy putting the men through the many preparatory practices preliminary to the scrimmage work and regular games, and believes that before the end of the year, we shall have a team which will be able to hold its own against anything in the state.

Wooster begins the season with one great advantage, namely, that she plays upon a fenced field and upon her own gridiron. This fact will be greeted with pleasure by the members of former teams who used to play on the fair grounds or on the west campus.

A large number of old men are back on the field and it is evident that they are in for hard work. New material has been showing up rapidly during the last few days, so that at the end of the week, the men in Varsity suits numbered thirty-five.

J. H. Whitcraft will captain Wooster's eleven this fall. "Whitty" will play at his old position at end unless he is needed elsewhere. He is going into the game with a determination and spirit that promises well for the prospects of the team.

Spencer, who played right tackle for the Varsity last year, will probably occupy the corresponding position in the back field this year. He is faster than last year and is a fine man on interference.

Hayman returns to the team with an increased interest in the game. He is a giant at guard and one of the hardest men to get through.

S. M. Miller is undoubtedly the heaviest man on the team. Miller's return was received with great joy as it was feared that he might not come back this fall. Wooster will miss him greatly when he graduates next spring.

Abbey, who played full last year, will cover the same position this season. Wooster could not get along without "Ace" back of the line. Abbey will do the punting this year.

Acton holds down left half this fall, although his real position is at end. He is quick and generally makes his yards.

Tate is one of the strongest factors of Wooster's line. He is a man whom an opponent does not want to hit a second time in a buck. He is in good condition to take his old place at tackle.

Benedict will probably hold down left end this year "Benny" first played with Wooster in the Barberton game last year. His work last season will count a great deal towards securing a position for him this year.

Thompson plays with Wooster for the first time this fall. He is a well built man and will probably take O'Neil's place at center.

Smith will have a place on the line this year. He is a faithful member of the squad and deserves to represent Wooster on the team.

Harrold, who returns to the team after two years absence, will find a place on the line without a doubt. He goes into the game like a veteran and rarely fails to catch his man when it is possible.

Chester Todd is a fine man for the line, especially in aggressive work. He is built for foot ball and is as earnest a follower of the pig skin as there is on the gridiron.

Hoover is a very promising candidate who hails from Bellefontaine. His position is at half back where he plays a strong game on the offensive. In defensive work he has a good reputation.

Foot Ball at Dennison.

[Special Correspondence]

Granville, O. Sept. 25,—Prospects for a winning season are better now than they have ever been before in the history of Dennison's foot ball team. Coach Stanton is expecting a great deal from his men. Guy Jones, last year's captain has returned to the University to take special work in Chemistry. He will go back to his old place on the line. A fine schedule has been arranged for the team.

Oberlin Will Be Weak.

[Special Correspondence.]

Prospects do not look as favorable as they did a week ago. It has leaked out that the team is not what it should be. The scrubs are heavier and faster than anything the Varsity can show. Dollan, D. Bradley and Sheffield refuse, for some reason, to play on the Varsity, and Barrows is out of the game for the year owing to injuries received in practice. Bellows will not be out in time for the game with Wooster. Nine hundred and fifty students have enrolled for work in the Conservatory which will swell the attendance far above that of former years.

Boston or ChicagoOrchestra Will Accompany Oratorio Chorus.

Wooster music lovers will have the opportunity of listening to three of the finest productions ever heard in this city, in the course of the year. The Oratorio Chorus, under the direction of Prof. J. Byron Oliver will give for the Anniversary Chorus, on Dec. 11, the best choruses from the "Messiah"; for the May festival they will render Hayden's "Creton" and later in the year, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast." These choruses will be accompanied by the pipe organ and a full orchestra. The orchestra has not been chosen yet, but Prof. Oliver states that it will be either from Chicago or Boston. He says that there will be eighty voices in the chorus this year and that, judging from the preliminary trials of individual voices, it will be the best ever heard in Wooster. The first rehearsal will be held this evening.

University Receives Gift.

W. A. Craig, executor of the Aylesworth estate, last week turned over to the University of Wooster $25,000 according to the provisions of the Aylesworth will.

On College Hill.

R. P. Abbey, '05, returned to Wooster last Wednesday.

Miss Jessie Faudel of Independence, O., entered school last Friday.

Miss Bertha Hunter and Miss Verda Stoll spent Sunday at their homes in Bucyrus.

D. S. Gerig left on Friday for his home in Smithville, O., where he spent Saturday and Sunday.

Call at the Book Exchange and see our fine line of box stationery and fountain pens.

Miss Ada Duncan returned to her home in Killbuck for a Saturday and Sunday visit with her parents.

Rev. Frank Gilman, a missionary from China is spending a few weeks of his furlough in Wooster and vicinity.

An effort is being made to organize a mandolin and guitar club. Students who play either of these instruments should hand their names to Edwin Meese.

The work of the Exchange Editorship has been placed in the hands of M. L. Fluckey, '06, pending the return to Wooster of D. W. Mumaw, '04, who was appointed to the position last year.

At their annual commencement last June, Wabash college conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Prof. Elias Compton, Dean of the University. Prof. Compton already held the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

The semi-annual meeting of the Bi-County (Stark-Wayne) Teachers Association will be held in the building of the University of Wooster on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 23 and 24. Supt. J. E. Morris of Alliance is President and Prof. J. F. Adams of Orrville is Sec'y.

The appearance of the Pittsburgh Orchestra on the evening of Nov. 26 will make the number of those who remain in Wooster for Thanksgiving much larger than in former years. The management of the course endeavored to date the attraction for some other time, but the fact that they make their only other appearance in Ohio in Cleveland on the evening of November 25, rendered the substitution of any other date impracticable.

Robin Goheen of Rush Medical, is in the city for a few days.

The Phi Gams donned colors for Frick Tyler, '05, last week.

Bring your watch to us. We do only first class repairing. Mrs. A. Shibley Public Square.

J. L. Porter, one of the promising students of last year, finds it impossible to attend school this term. He is at present employed in Republic, O.

Fresh candy, just received at Hubbell's.

W. D. Hartman, '07, while practicing with the squad last Friday evening sustained a somewhat severe sprain. He will not get into the great college game for a couple of weeks.

Parker "Lucky Curve" fountain pens sold by Mrs. A. Shibley, jeweler, Public Square.

Lieut. Orin E. Pore, '06, Co. H. Eighth regiment O. N. G. will accompany his regiment to West Point, Ky. where a number of national troops and state militia go into camp. The regiment returns about Oct. 12.

Fresh fruits and cakes at Hubbell's.

Alumni.

Thomas Hills, '02, spent last week in Wooster preparatory to beginning work in Botany and Biology in Chicago.

The news of the death of Miss Harriett Bowers, '98, which occurred at her home in Columbus the 8th of last June, came as a great sorrow to all friends. It was not entirely unexpected. She had been ill for some time, and was a sufferer during all of her college course. But she had borne so bravely the burden of her weakness, that there were few who suspected the extent of her suffering.

Partly in search of health, she spent a year after her graduation teaching in Mexico. Two more years were spent teaching in Ohio, and a fourth as an instructor in the Girls' Industrial School, near Delaware, Ohio. For over a year before her death she was at her home in Columbus, where she died on the above date of pulmonary tuberculosis. Her funeral was conducted by the Pastor of her church, the Rev'd Dr. J. M. Anderson, assisted by the Rev'd Paul R.

Hickok, Wooster, '97, of Delaware, Ohio.

Miss Bowers was peculiarly heroic in her struggle against disease, carrying on her work of study. Her unfailing, sunshiny disposition brought her scores of friends, and bound them to her. She gave herself heartily to the varied interests of college life, especially to her class of '98, and the Willard Literary Society. She was a Christian who delighted in active service to her Master. She will be missed by all who came to love her by knowing her. The sympathy of all has gone out to the stricken family.

At a reunion of the class of '98, held in June at the home of Miss Glenn, very sincere and appropriate action was taken expressive of the sorrow experienced by her classmates, and their sympathy for those in her home circle.

The Rev. J. C. Breckenridge, '90 has been released from the pastoral charge of the Bethany Presbyterian church of Fort Wayne, Ind., to accept the appointment of assistant to Dr. Sol S. Dickey the head of the Winona school of Winona Lake.

Dr. S. W. Stophlet, '78, so one of the church journals declares, has a church and work in Winfield, Kansas, that are "giving constantly." Dr. Stophlet was a Wayne county boy, his old home being in Fredericksburg.

Miss Jane Glenn, '02, is one of the teaching force of Orrville, Ohio.

Miss Winifred Axtell, '00, has entered upon another year of work in the Marion schools.

Miss Ella Loreaux, '00, is a teacher in the Institution for the Blind in Columbus.

Prof. D. H. Loreaux, '01, is now superintendent of schools in Cooperstown, North Dakota.

Edward R. Hills, '97, of Chicago, was the guest over Sabbath of Dr. and Mrs. Hills, on College avenue.

Miss Nellie Lutz, '03, is now teacher of Latin in the high schools of Port Clinton.

Miss Mary Mateer, '00, is the guest of Miss Emeline McSweeney for a short time while on her way to her work in Scotia Seminary, Scotia North Carolina.

Prof. Edward Sauvain, '99, who taught last year in the schools of Crafton, a suburb of Pittsburg, has been promoted to an excellent position in the Pittsburg schools.

Rev. C. E. Shields, '95, of Amanda, has accepted a pastorate in Helo, Sandwich Islands, at a salary of $2,000 a year.

Judge Thomas M. Bigger, '83, remarked during the summer to a Wooster graduate that a distinguished foreigner, who had traveled over the United States and visited different educational institutions, said to President Elliot of Harvard that he did not need to think that Harvard had a monopoly in learning since it was his opinion that the ablest Latin professor in America was Prof. J. O. Notestein, '73, of Wooster University. To which we all say amen!

The class of '93, held a very successful decennial reunion in the Archer House, Wooster, on June 17th last. The historian of the class Dr. I. K. King of Mount Oliver, Pennsylvania has prepared an admirable history of '93, a copy of which he has kindly sent us. We shall from time to time give our readers the information it contains concerning the members of '93, one of the strong classes among the alumni.

Prof. George T. Jamison, '95, is teaching in McKeesport, Pa.

Gaylord Eitapenc Company, Contractors and Steam and Hydraulic Engineers.

Corner State and Lewis Streets, Binghamton, N. Y.
Branch Office, 505 Linden St., Scranton, Pa.

We solicit the correspondence of all parties who have contracts to let in our line. No work too large or too small for this company to give prompt attention.

Boyd Gill '01, is in business in Erie, Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Fred McCreary '01, was last week licensed to preach by the presbytery of Mahoning. Since May 1st he has had charge of the Presbyterian church of Clarence, Ill., which dedicated a new building June 28, the excellent program of which occasion is before us. On Sept. 20, Mr. McCreary preached in the Westminster Presbyterian and U. P. churches of Youngstown.

W. A. McBane, '90, is now cashier of a bank in Salineville, O.

Miss Gertrude Laughlin, '03, has been elected to an excellent position in the schools of Toquerville, Utah.

Prof. Edwin E. Jacobs, '01, last year a teacher in the Fostoria High School, has been awarded a better position in Goshen, Ind.

The Alumni Editor has received a copy of the Wisconsin Presbyterian Review of which the Rev. John McCoy, '84, of Appleton, is managing editor. It is certainly a journal of high rank and reflects great credit on the ability of one of Wooster's sons who holds a high place in the church in Wisconsin.

Exclusive Style

The Varsity Suit shown here is a Hart Schaffner & Marx style; the name "Varsity" is their name for their style.

You find it exclusively here; you may find something elsewhere that looks like it; not Varsity unless Hart, Schaffner & Marx.

The real thing is worth buying; the "look-like-its" may or may not be. If you want the best, this is the place for it. You'll find it pays to pay the price of Hart Schaffner & Marx goods; they're worth more than they cost.

We are showing a large range of the new effects. Prices range in H S & M $15.00 to $25.00. Other makes $8.50, $10.00, $12.00 and $13.50.
